

Katy, a young mother of three children under five, suspects her husband is on the verge of an affair. She decides to nip it in the bud and goes to confront the other woman using her children as moral blackmail, but the children get out of hand and cause mayhem for ten minutes ...

Kate relates this to her sister, but Katy has got the wrong person.

About the author

Beatrice Holloway is a playwright and author who has been writing children's stories since 2014. In 2015, Beatrice was appointed Children's Storyteller on Hillingdon Narrowboats Association. The London Borough of Hillingdon library service has published two of her children's stories and awarded her with a Certificate of merit — 'In recognition of an outstanding contribution to the Arts'. Beatrice was also awarded a Lottery Grant to write a commissioned historical play: Commoner to Coronet.

Two adult books, A man from the North East and Elusive Destiny are due for re-print by TSL in 2018, and she is currently working on a third novel, Archie's Children.

Beatrice is a retired teacher and a member of The Society of Women Writers and Journalists and the Society of Authors.

TSL has published The adventures of Rhys, a series of stories telling of young Rhys growing up in Wales.
