

Ray Wooster shares memories of his early years growing up in Greenford and Northolt, greater London in the 1930s and 1940s.

Telling of 'making do', the days before the NHS and being evacuated to relatives in Swansea during the 1939-1942 war provide an insight into another era.

These memories, gently expressed, are suitable for readers of all ages.

About the author

Ray Wooster has been writing since a teenager, but it is only in his 80s that his first book was published, the first of the 3-part series A Boy's War Journal. At the time he was also president of the Harrow Writers' Circle.

Ray has since published the complete story of A Boy's War Journal and Human Bondage. Michael's Magic Motor Car was written for children.

Aunt Jane was the first of his Commuter Book series.

My 30s and 40s Childhood was written at the request of his grandchildren.
