

George and Flora are two cats who think themselves human. In Beyond the Cat Flap, the cats settle into their new home and discover the neighbourhood. In Head to the Country, we join them in their discovery of the Yorkshire Dales, meeting rats, horses, squirrels and the circus.

About the author

Rachel Haywood trained initially in Chemistry and spent the early part of her career as a research scientist. More recently she has given her artistic side a chance, not only exhibiting her paintings and singing, but also writing and illustrating her own books.

The Adventures of George and Flora were written whilst she enjoyed/struggled with bringing up two Birman kittens from scratch. George and Flora have delighted, entertained and hopefully will now earn their keep as well.
