BOOK I

ONE

If a ou were to of jump over a railings outside a classrooms on a third floor, onto a tarmac quadrangle below, you don't not always kill yourself. Old Zakes found that out a hard way. We all shrikked somethink chronic, aspecially a girls cause of girls is worserer as boys at getting frights. Theresa Dem were a worstest, screaming away like what she done, wouldn't not bleddy stop. But then I aspose she were sitting a closest to a drop zone which were what we did of called that spot from then on. Got blood all over her zarms. Why all a screaming though? It weren't like they was peanut butter zarms, they was egg. Zakes' blood could of only have made a taste betterer. Eggs make me puke big time, but maybe a blood were like tomato sauce what always do of make thinks betterer. If they had of beed peanut butter zarms I reckon I would of have probably finished Zakes off then and there for wasting, I don't not like it when a ou wastes peanut butter.

So anyways, like I said, there were old Zakes lying on a ground groaning, all a girls was screaming and ja, even some of a boys was screaming too also. David du Plessis, he were a biggest woosie of all time, screaming like a bleddy girl he were.

Miss Smit were a teacher on duty and you couldn't not of chosed a worsrer teacher acause she were a big woosie too, even by girl standards. She were like really pale normally, but she did of went even more whiter. I mean she were broek wetting shrikked seeing old Zakes like that.

She did of kept going, 'Oh my god, oh my god, oh my god,' which were quite funny as she are like a religious edumacation teacher and all. Old de Wit, a headmaster, sented her home with trauma so as we did of had a free period that arvie. Not many ous merembered to thank Zakes for that when he did got back, he done us a big favour by jumping. Not that I is saying ous must go and jump off a third floor corridor there by Dawnhurst Primary School. Zakes were lucky, he did of survived, but I reckon most ous what jump off there won't not live. It were like a million
