Great book ... put it on your PC

About the author

Fraser was born in Caerleon, Monmouthshire, a small town with interesting Roman remains and home to the nearby Celtic Manor golf course. He was diagnosed with Parkinson's in 2001, age 42. He's always enjoyed drawing and as a child used to copy cartoons out of papers and magazines before starting to draw his own. In 2000 he and his wife Amanda adopted a small stray cat with a big personality. She had one and a half ears and they named her Strumble.

All royalties will be donated to the Amersham and Wycombe Branch of Parkinson's UK to help support local people with Parkinson's as well as to support research and a cure for Parkinson's.
