

Be different: buy direct from the author or tslbooks.uk

Scene 1

Lights Up.

Sunny day. The top of a hill. A bench overlooking countryside.

RON and ANITA appear. RON carries a small rucksack.

They both seem quite exhausted.

ANITA: I thought you said there was only one hill.

RON: That's what Christine told me.

ANITA: Your sister's a fool!

RON: Just the one hill, she said.

ANITA: A complete bloody fool. Just wait until I see her ...

RON: Calm down.

ANITA: Calm down? A nice flat walk, eh? She's having a laugh.

Either that or she's gone completely round the bend.

RON: Well, we'll have a rest, now. Have something to eat.
(Produces box of sandwiches from rucksack.) You'll feel better having had something to eat.

ANITA: My ankle's really sore. I've got blisters on my feet ...

RON: Sit down. Look, sit down here.

(They sit on the bench, looking out ahead.)

It's a good view from here, though. You can't deny that.

Yes. An amazing view.

(Pause.)

I came to somewhere near here as a boy. On a trip with the school.